Is Marching Band For You?

Band, Orchestra, and Choir students you all can join marching band if you want. There's something for everyone for the choir and orchestra you can do Color Guard and for band students obviously you can march your instrument.

The theme is very important in a show you must act like someone from the time period of that show. This years show theme is In Search Of. If you have a good imagination you should consider being in marching band!

Another thing crucial to being in marching band would be the formations you make. You as a band can't see them but the people in the stands can! It's very important to be there and to be in line and to stay in between two people.

You don't want to be out of line or not there and the formation be off. So if your like OCD and have to have things all straight and the same, marching band is for you.

If you are any of the thing that I've just mentioned you might want to consider being in marching band, it's really fun and you get to make a lot of friends and meet a lot of new people that you would, without band never have met in the first place.
